Idaho Code § 56-1102 (2007)

§ 56-1102. Legislative findings

The legislature finds that:

- (1) The problem of poverty will not be solved solely by government programs and income subsidies.
- (2) It is in the best interest of all Idahoans to structure incentives in a way that will result in a greater likelihood that low-income and working-poor individuals will attain self-sufficiency.
- (3) It is in the best interest of all Idahoans to encourage low-income individuals, neighborhoods and communities to benefit from the developments achieved through the growth in assets and investments.
- (4) Achieving self-sufficiency and assessing economic opportunity for low-income and working-poor individuals can be addressed through public policy that invests in asset accumulation and is supported by private sector philanthropy.
- (5) Providing a structured savings situation for low-income and working-poor individuals enhances their chances of fulfilling major life goals and opportunities and incorporates them into the economic mainstream.
- (6) The state has an opportunity to take advantage of private and public resources by making the transition to an asset-based antipoverty strategy. Those resources include, but are not limited to, the assets for independence act (42 U.S.C. section 604) and the workforce investment act (P.L. 105-220).
- (7) Investment through an individual development account program will help lower-income households obtain the assets they need to succeed. Communities and this state will experience resultant economic and social benefits accruing from the promotion of job training and higher education, home ownership and small business development.
- (8) It is desirable for this state to enact legislation that enables an authorized fiduciary organization sufficient flexibility to receive private, state and federal moneys for individual development accounts. The legislature should periodically review the provisions of this chapter to ensure that this state maximizes the receipt of available federal moneys for individual development accounts.

Idaho Code § 56-1104 (2007)

§ 56-1104. Approved purpose of account -- Emergency withdrawal -- Removal of account holder from program

(1) A person may establish an individual development account only for a purpose approved by a fiduciary organization. Disbursements from an account for an approved purpose shall be made directly by the fiduciary organization on behalf of the account holder but in no event shall the fiduciary organization make a disbursement for an approved purpose directly to the account holder. Purposes that the fiduciary organization may approve are:

(a) Educational costs for any family member eighteen (18) years of age or older, at an accredited institution of postsecondary education.

(b) The purchase of a primary residence. In addition to payment on the purchase price of the residence, account moneys may be used to pay any usual or reasonable settlement, financing or other closing costs. The account holder must not have owned or held any interest in a residence during the three (3) years prior to making the purchase. However, this three (3) year period shall not apply to displaced homemakers or other individuals who have lost home ownership as a result of divorce.

(c) The capitalization of a small business. Account moneys may be used for capital, plant, equipment and inventory expenses or for working capital pursuant to a business plan. The business plan must have been developed through a financial institution, nonprofit microenterprise program or other qualified agent demonstrating business expertise and have been approved by the fiduciary organization. The business plan must include a description of the services or goods to be sold, a marketing plan and projected financial statements.

(2) (a) If an emergency occurs, an account holder may withdraw all or part of the account holder's deposits to an individual development account for a purpose not described in subsection (1) of this section. As used in this paragraph, an approved emergency includes making payments for necessary medical expenses, to avoid eviction of the account holder from the account holder's residence and for necessary living expenses following a loss of employment.

(b) The account holder must reimburse the account for the amount withdrawn under this subsection within twelve (12) months after the date of the withdrawal. Failure of an account holder to make a timely reimbursement to the account is grounds for removing the account holder from the individual development account program. Until the reimbursement has been made in full, an account holder shall not be approved for matching funds or accrued interest on matching funds.

(3) If an account holder withdraws, or directs the withdrawal, of moneys from an individual development account for other than an approved purpose, the fiduciary organization may remove the account holder from the program.

(4) If an account holder moves from the area where the program is conducted or is otherwise unable to continue in the program, the fiduciary organization may remove the account holder from the program.

Idaho Code § 56-1104

(5) If an account holder is removed from the program under subsection (2), (3) or (4) of this section, the account holder shall retain moneys he or she deposited in the account, including interest earned. In the event of the death of the account holder, moneys deposited in the account by the account holder and interest earned on those deposits shall be distributed to the designated beneficiary of the account and, if there is none, then according to the laws of the state of Idaho as moneys of the estate of the account holder. If the account holder is removed from the program or in the event of the account holder's death, all matching deposits in the account and all interest earned on matching deposits shall revert to the fiduciary organization. The fiduciary organization shall use the reverted funds as a source of matching deposits for other accounts.

ABSENT/
EXCUSED: None

Chairman Bilbao called the meeting to order and asked for the first presentation.

Docket #
16-0305-0602

Susie Cummins from the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare said she is a Medicaid Program Specialist and explained 16-0305-0602, the "Deficit Reduction Act of 2005" which was passed into law at the federal level to help reduce and slow the rising costs of Medicaid. She said there is a rule change that requires citizenship documentation and another that extends the period of time for asset transfers to be reviewed from 3 to 5 years. She also told how the penalties are imposed.

Ms. Cummins said all the rule changes are a result of the Federal Law changes passed February 8, 2006, with the purpose of protecting Medicaid for the needy by discouraging sheltering of assets. She explained how the new rules separate annuities and life estates into their own section and clarifies how to treat each of them.

A question was asked if any of the new rules would have an adverse effect for a spouse and the way married couples are evaluated. The answer was no and the new rules even help a spouse. It was also stated that the people involved with the elder laws knew about the rule changes and this hearing and were not in attendance.

Representative Loertscher moved that Docket 16-0305-0602 be recommended to the committee. The motion carried by voice vote.

Docket #
16-0305-0605

Susie Cummins presented 16-0305-0605 as a rule change to help protect Medicaid for these who need it by discouraging the sheltering of assets and the rules are necessary because they provide clarifications based on Federal Laws that are used in determining eligibility for Idaho Medicaid assistance and how the rules should be applied.

MOTION: Representative Thayne moved that Docket 16-0305-0605 be recommenced to the committee. The motion carried by voice vote.

Responding to a request from Rep. Bilbao, Rep. McGeachin explained that all those who testified were in support of docket 16-0304-0601. Rep. Luker explained this docket exempts one vehicle from the tally of resources which determines food stamp eligibility; previously, only a vehicle worth less than $4,650 would be exempt; the public testified that families needed a reliable vehicle to seek and maintain employment; in addition, this rule conforms more closely to the intent of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). Rep. Rusche noted the rule also improves the Department of Health and Welfare's administrative efficiency by saving approximately 15 minutes per application.

HEADLINE: Some Medicaid planning is now illegal

BYLINE: Crandall and Oseen

BODY:

Beginning in 1997, an asset transfer may result in criminal penalties if the purpose of the transfer is to qualify for Medicaid payment of nursing home costs.

Only those individuals with minimal disposable income and minimal nonexempt" assets qualify for Medicaid. Therefore, a common strategy for preserving the family estate while having Medicaid foot a nursing home bill has been for ill or elderly family members to give nonexempt assets to other family members, while retaining exempt" assets. Exempt assets typically include a principal residence, about $70,000 of a spouse's assets, and, within limits, an automobile and personal effects.

Federal law had already contained provisions which disqualified from eligibility individuals who gifted assets within 36 months of applying for Medicaid (60 months for transfers to certain trusts).

The disqualification could be even longer, as illustrated by the following example: Harry gives $500,000 to his children. Thirty months later, he applies to Medicaid for payment of his nursing home costs, which in his state are reimbursed at $4,000 per month.

Harry's eligibility period will be 125 months from the time he made the gift ($500,000 divided by $4,000). If Harry had waited an additional six months to apply for Medicaid, he could have been eligible immediately.

Under the new law, it is a criminal offense to knowingly and willingly transfer assets to qualify for Medicaid if application is made for benefits during a period of disqualification, as described above. The penalty ranges up to a $25,000 fine and five years in prison. But asset transfers made before the 36- (60-) month look-back" period, regardless of the motive, still won't subject an applicant to criminal sanctions or disqualify an applicant from eligibility.

If you have questions about this process, consult an accountant.
